

A GUIDE TO COMPARISON

What is your mission?

Those people you compare myself to, are they aiding in this mission? If so, relax and praise God for partners in bringing the Gospel to the world. If not, be reminded that you are on two different paths that are incomparable anyway.

Are you tuned in to what God has for you or lured by Satan's lies in an attempt to distract us?

Where do you feel the defeat of comparison most? How can you limit it?

What could you do for God's glory if you kept your eyes solely on Him?

Are you trying to get God's approval or man's? What does it say about your heart if you are jealous when God is generous to someone else?

What cracks in your life do you need to let show?
